Bloody Clothes Found

Pretty, Wealthy Woman Missing

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The mysterious disappearance of the pretty young wife of a wealthy automobile dealer, followed within 14 hours by discovery of her blood-smeared automobile and clothing, Friday set police hunting for her body.

Maj. Eugene Pond, chief of detectives, said 34-year-old Mrs. Wilma Allen, mother of two small boys, apparently had been kidnapped, forced to drive to an isolated spot and slain in a brutal attack.

The attractive brunette was last seen at noon Thursday leaving a beauty shop where she had received a hair set and manicure in preparation for dining out with her husband, William R. (Bill) Allen Jr., operator of one of Kansas City's larger Chevrolet agencies.

Mrs. Allen's 1955 blue and white convertible, locked and undamaged was found by a patrolman in a parking area near the Union Station off one of the city's busiest thoroughfares at 2:10 a.m.

The rear seat of the car, partially pulled out, and the floor were drenched with a great quantity of blood. Stuffed into the car's trunk compartment, and also blood-smeared, were the blouse, skirt, shoes and underclothing Mrs. Allen had been wearing when last seen. Missing were her stockings, a scarf and purse. Police said Mrs. Allen apparently had only $25 with her when she left the beauty parlor and they discounted robbery as a motive in her disappearance.

Hopes For A Good Corn Harvest Shot

"The day is past for a good corn crop" in eastern and central Nebraska, declared A. E. Anderson, state-federal crop statistician late Friday.

The rainfall and cool temperatures which temporarily broke the heat wave in the western and northern portions of the state occurred in the wrong areas to help the greatest share of the corn, he explained. Most of the corn is raised in the east and central.

If a rain comes soon in these areas, he explained, it will still help. Moisture would make more corn usable as feed, he added.

Although there has been burning and a lot of damage in southeast Nebraska, he continued, the situation is not "hopeless."

The condition is not as bad as it might have been if the humidity had not been as high as it has been throughout the hot spell, Anderson said. He explained that humid air keeps the plants from burning as much as they do in dry heat.

However, he said, "Pastures in Nebraska are in awful shape." Not only do they need rain, there is a great problem with grasshoppers, Anderson stated. He also said grasshoppers are eating the alfalfa quite short.

Anderson said he had been traveling in Kansas and Nebraska and that Kansas pastures look worse than those in Nebraska. He said grasshoppers are even thicker there than they are in this state.

Meanwhile, Nemaha County Agricultural Agent Bob Wilson reported about half of the corn crop in that county has been damaged beyond recovery, the Associated Press said.

Williams Owens of the Nebraska City FHA office said also that Soil Conservationist C. B. Patrick at Auburn told him that about 75 per cent of Nemaha County's corn showed damage and was deteriorating rapidly this week.

Owens said Otoe County corn appeared to be in the best shape of all southeast Nebraska, but the corn in the eastern half of Cass County was badly hurt and deteriorating fast.

Some corn in southern Otoe County has been so badly hurt that rains cannot save it, according to Homer Tucker, who lives west of Lorton.

He said it is hard to determine from looking at a field from the road how severely the heat and drought have dealt with it.

"The stalks may look green, as many do, but the tassels in many instances are 'baked' and as a result there is no chance for ears to develop to any size."

In the northern part of the state O'Neill reported considerable corn damage as a result of the heat and drought and white caps were Nebraska's torrid heat has claimed another victim, and forecasters see little chance for a let up.

Mrs. Amelia Birzele, 75, was the third person in Omaha to die of the heat in as many days. She died Thursday night. She was admitted to a hospital Sunday as a heat prostration victim and had been in critical condition since that time.

The weatherman says high Saturday will range from 90 to 95. Meanwhile, the northwest portion of the state received more rain Friday following heavy spotted rains the night before.

Broken Bow was drenched Friday afternoon by a 1.10 inch down-pour, an inch of which was said to have fallen within 20 minutes.

Ravenna listed 1.97 of rain and Anselmo also received more rain after 1.35 on Thursday.

Sidney, Burwell and Scottsbluff were other points listing rain Friday. Sidney had 1.20 for Thursday night and Friday.

The five day forecast called for temperatures three to six degrees above normal through Wednesday. Normal is 88.

The Lincoln Chief's game at Sioux City was postponed because of rain.

appearing before Thursday night's rain of more than an inch.

Farther west the weather was having another damaging effect. Lightning striking extremely dry crop lands caused a number of grass fires in the Broken Bow area.

Fleeing Man Is Wounded By Patrolman

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Safety Patrolman Dick Brandt Friday afternoon twisted a gun from the hand of a prisoner, pursued the man across a busy North Platte shopping center parking lot and finally brought the fugitive down with two shots.

Euen James McMahon, 33, who said he had been living with a sister at Salem, Ore., was hit in the arm and the neck by Brandt's shots. He was not seriously wounded.

Ordered Into Car
Brandt said he had stopped a car driven by McMahon and ordered McMahon into the patrol car for a trip to the county jail where Brandt said he had intended to book the man for drunken driving.

As Brandt pulled away, another patrol car followed.

After driving a few blocks, the prisoner suddenly pulled a gun and Brandt said, muttered threats of killing the officer and orders that Brandt instruct the other patrol car to stop following.

Brandt said he drove past the county jail and went on a few blocks more. Then, the officer relented, McMahon looked back to see if the other car was in sight. Brandt seized the opportunity to swing himself around and jerk the gun from McMahon.

In turn, McMahon twisted away, leaped from the car and ran with Brandt jumping out and racing in pursuit.

Patrolman Gayle Miller, following in the second patrol car, joined Brandt in the chase after McMahon made his dash.

Brandt caught the man once and hit him on the head with a revolver, but McMahon kept running and the patrolman fired three shots, two hitting McMahon.

Authorized the chancellor's office to put together plans for setting up of specifications and hiring an architectural firm for an addition to the women's dorm on the campus.

Authorized the chancellor's office to inquire into the hiring of a financial officer to plan the sale of nearly $3.5 million in bonds. These are for the addition to the Student Union, $1.5 million; construction of a Student Health Center, $500,000; construction of men's and women's dorms at the Ag College, $750,000, and construction of the addition to the women's dorm about $700,000.

Approved the hiring of the firm of McNett, Stange & Co., of Grand Island for preparation of plans for a $150,000 laboratory-administration building for the North Platte experiment station. This firm also planned a similar type building now under construction at Scottsbluff's experiment station.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin advised the Regents there would be a 19 per cent increase in new female student enrollment next fall. The present housing situation, he said, for taking care of this potential increase is "critical."

The immediate plans for housing of the new female students will include (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Death Takes Tiny Carmen Miranda, 41

From Press Dispatches
HOLLYWOOD—Carmen Miranda, tiny Brazilian bombshell of the movies, collapsed and died in her home Friday in an agony which prevented her from crying out for help to her husband who lay sleeping nearby.

The diminutive singer, dancer and actress, famous for her fruit-salad h e a d, slumped dead on bedroom floor, clutching in her hand a mirror she had used in her final beauty treatment.

Dr. W. L. Marxer said Miss Miranda, 41, died of a heart attack.

Doubly Happy
He reconstructed her last moments this way:

"She had just finished a TV picture with Jimmy Durante and was doubly happy because she had also recently visited her homeland, Brazil."

"She had a party of six friends and her husband, David Sebastian, a TV producer, in to help her celebrate. The party broke up some time after midnight."

"Mr. Sebastian went to bed at about 2 to 2:30 a.m. and so did she—or at least she prepared for bed."

But then there was the urge for a last cigarette and for a last-second beauty preparation, the doctor said.

She fixed a "beauty mask" in place and was walking back to bed when she fell forward into unconsciousness.

The 5-foot-2, 98 pound dancer was known for her sultry gyrations to Latin rhythms.

Soviet Switch Eyed

U.S. Doubts Russ Will Accept 'Blueprint'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials took a more hopeful view of disarmament negotiations with Russia Friday after Soviet Premier Bulganin canceled his rejection of President Eisenhower's arms inspection plan.

The plan calls for the U. S. and Russia to swap military blueprints and permit aerial inspection of each other's territory.

Bulganin Friday promised consideration of this and all other serious disarmament propositions.

No one here seriously thinks that after his criticisms of the Eisenhower suggestion in a speech in Moscow Thursday Bulganin will ever agree to it. It would seem to require too many changes in Russia's Iron Curtain existence.

Kind of Symbol
But the proposal which Eisenhower put forth at the Geneva Big Four meeting two weeks ago has become a kind of worldwide symbol of determination to make bold progress in reducing the arms burden and the threat of atomic war. Bulganin's action Friday, reversing the negative attitude he expressed Thursday, means that he recognizes the importance of being on the right side of a proposition that has captured the imagination of people all over the world.

His turnaround within a period of 24 hours may therefore be taken as a concession to world public opinion and U. S. officials found this an encouraging evidence of a high degree of sensitivity on the part of the Moscow regime.

Too Emphatic?
Some experts here questioned whether Bulganin really intended to reject the Eisenhower plan as firmly as he appeared to be doing Thursday. The only positive thing which the Soviet leader said about the President's idea was that he recognized in it a desire to find a solution to the complicated problem of disarmament.

On thinking the matter over the men in the Kremlin may have decided that Bulganin's play Thursday was a major fumble. It costs nothing to promise consideration of any plan and that seemed to be about the least Bulganin could have done if he wished to avoid the impression of rejecting Eisenhower's proposal completely.

Elmwood Woman Injured In Crash
Mrs. Mary Ann Guilford, 22, Elmwood, was reported in good condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital after suffering a head injury and wrist and knee lacerations in a two-car collision Friday night.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Betty Patton, 37, of Elmwood, which collided with a car driven by Kathleen Chastil, 29, of Rt. 3.

The accident occurred on U.S. 34 three miles east of Veterans Hospital. Both cars were east-bound.

Cadet's Loyalty Not Questioned—Commission Denied; Mother An Ex-Red

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP)—A 21-year-old midshipman was graduated Friday with second highest honors in his class at the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy. But he was denied a naval reserve commission because his widowed mother once was a Communist.

"I wish they'd punish me instead of him," the mother said.

Cadet Eugene Landy, a handsome athlete and would-be lawyer, stood with the rest of his class in dress white uniform as the ensign's oath was administered. But his hand was not raised. He took no oath.

May Re-Apply
He has a six-months period during which he may reapply for the commission. He said he would do so.

Landy's own loyalty was not questioned. The Navy merely said he was "extremely close to his mother and she has been a Communist."

The mother, Mrs. Deborah Landy, 54, of Bradley Beach, N. J., said her son talked her into quitting the party about 1947 after she had been a member for 10 years. She added:

"He sort of gave me an ultimatum that I quit or he would leave home. He reformed me and yet he is suffering for it. I'd rather go to jail than have him suffer."

Young Landy expressed fear his career in admiralty law might be endangered. Without the commission that merchant marine graduates normally receive, he will be liable for the draft. He intends to enter Yale University on a scholarship this fall to study law.

An academy spokesman called Landy "one of the brightest students we have ever had." He also was a football and tennis star.

"Whatever his mother may have done," this official added, "there has never been any question of Landy's loyalty here."

Landy, himself, called his own political views "pretty conservative."

Asst. Navy Secretary Albert Pratt refused to discuss Landy's case with a reporter beyond calling it "a considered action by the Navy."

Mishap Near Ashland Takes A Second Life
Grover M. Johnson, 46, of Ashland died Friday at a local hospital of injuries suffered in a car-truck collision three miles northwest of Ashland in which his daughter Kitty, 19, was killed Monday.

Surviving is his wife Eva. The body was taken to Hodgman-Splain Mortuary.

Johnson suffered head and chest injuries.

The car he was driving collided on a county road with a truck driven by Marlin Johnson, 20, of Memphis, a nephew.

Bulganin Promises A Closer Look

'Open Sky' Plan Not Rejected

Ike's Proposal Still Under Consideration Says Russ Premier

By RICHARD KASSCHKE
MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin made a surprise second appearance Friday before the Supreme Soviet Parliament to assure the Russian people and the world Moscow still is considering President Eisenhower's proposal for mutual aerial inspection of military establishments.

Bulganin said he was misunderstood Thursday when his remarks were taken as a rejection of the American proposal.

Naturally, Bulganin said, the Soviet Union prefers its own disarmament proposals, but it would not refuse to consider other sincere plans, and still is studying the President's. "Everything will turn out well," the white-bearded Premier said, and the deputies cheered. Thursday the deputies burst into laughter when Bulganin said there was plenty of room in both countries to hide things from planes.

Unscheduled

This unscheduled second appearance came after President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington he did not feel the Soviet Union had finally slammed the door to agreement on disarmament. The President said the United States would consider Soviet proposals sympathetically in a search for a formula fair to both. The Eisenhower proposal at the Geneva summit conference called for an exchange of military blueprints of both countries as a step toward the mutual trust needed to pave the way for disarmament.

Reply Delayed

The Russians made no public reply to this proposal until Thursday. Bulganin told his Parliament that though he paid tribute to the implied desire to contribute to the solution of the complicated disarmament problem, there could be no considerable effect from it, since both countries had areas vast enough to hide anything. The Soviet proposals advanced May 10 on the disarmament question, Bulganin said, were more realistic. Moscow's proposals called for withdrawal of foreign forces from Germany, prohibition of nuclear weapons and a system of controls against violations at key ports and transport centers.

This was immediately interpreted by diplomats and the Western press as a rejection of the Eisenhower plan. But in his second appearance before the Parliament Bulganin said the foreign press had "misunderstood" him.

45-STORY SCAFFOLD BUCKLES

... In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Police evacuated thousands of persons from an area near Grand Central Terminal Friday to save them from a possible crash of scaffolding from a 45-story building.

The scaffolding, extending the full height of the Seony Vacuum building, under construction, buckled at the 18th floor.

Tethering pipes and planks threatened to plunge to buildings and streets below.

Traffic was halted. Pedestrians were shoed away. Stores, bars and apartment houses in the vicinity were emptied.

Police said that if the pipe framework collapsed completely the planks resting on the pipes would "fly like jets."

Construction men quickly threw a rope cable "bride" around the sagging section of the scaffolding and expressed confidence it would not fall.

Screams of workmen could be heard as the scaffolding on the 41st St. side of the structure buckled into a wide "V" shape shortly before 2 p.m.

None was reported injured.

As they scrambled to safety, emergency crews immediately began clearing the streets of pedestrians and automobiles, then went into stores and bars to rout out customers there.

The technical assistance contribution brought the U. S. total to $15 million for the year, more than half the $27,984,758 so far pledged by all countries, a record.

U.S. May Seek Communist Market For Surpluses

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that world tensions are easing, the United States may try to sell some of its huge farm surpluses to Russia and satellites, officials said Friday.

These government farm officials said they expect the Eisenhower administration to re-examine soon the feasibility of a resumption of trade with Iron Curtain countries.

The administration has been reluctant to do this largely because of a belief that American consumers would disapprove sales of the farm products at prices below those prevailing in this country. These lower prices would, of course be necessary under world competitive conditions.

A development which led the officials to predict early review of the trade problem was a speech made at East Lansing, Mich., Thursday night by President Charles B. Shuman of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation.

Advocating a resumption of trade relations with the Russians, he said this would contribute to world peace and would be a major step in expanding markets for U.S. farm products.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse called Shuman's speech "significant" because, he

Alvo Man Injured In One-Car Crash

Darrell G. Morgaridge, 24, of Alvo suffered a fractured collarbone and facial cuts in a one-car collision Friday night four miles east of the Havelock overpass on the Alvo gravel road.

He was taken to Veterans Hospital where he was reported in fair condition.

The Safety Patrol said Morgaridge was the sole occupant of the car that apparently went out of control traveling west on the county road.

The car was totally demolished as it went off the road and careened into a ditch colliding with a fence post.

A nearby farmer, Tom Leed, saw the car go by from his yard and later heard the crash.

He went a quarter of a mile west to find the man unconscious and pinned to the right passenger side inside the car.

Leed removed the injured man from the car and called by telephone for the Safety Patrol.

Mechanic Reports $125 Tool Theft At Beach

Ed Roth, a mechanic at Capitol Beach, has reported the theft of $125 worth of tools from a tool shed near the Dodge'em ranch. The sheriff's office said entrance to the building was gained by forcing a rear door.

Reported missing were an electric hand drill and bits, a set of wood chisels and punches, soldering iron, hand saw, tap and die set, and a socket - wrench set.

clude reshuffling of present facilities and setting up arrangements for private housing, the chancellor said. He estimated there will be an increase of close to 200 new women students, including exchange students, entering school this fall.

Under a rush program, the new addition to the women's dorm could be finished by the fall of 1956. This would meet the immediate needs, the chancellor pointed out. The expansion of the dorm would mean the demolition of the Marquette Apartments now owned by the University, and considered "ancient and bad."

John Selleck, University business manager, said the plans from the architects could be forthcoming within 90 days for approval by the regents. Selleck mentioned the possibility of the hiring of Davis and Wilson, Lincoln architects. This firm, Selleck said, did the initial architectural work on the original women's dorm.

The new pharmacy - bacteriology building will be built on the campus on No. 14th and Vine just west of Bancroft Hall pending approval of the City Council to straighten 14th from Vine to U. The new building would be 170 by 53 feet and would face west. It is named in honor of Dr. Rufus A. Lyman, dean emeritus of the College of Pharmacy. The present home of the Pharmacy College at the northwest corner of 12th and R is the oldest building on the campus. It was built in 1885 and will be removed when the new building is completed.

Last Major Construction

Cost of the new building is now expected to exceed $750,000. Funds are available under present income from the 10-year state institutional building levy. This will be the last major construction under the present plan for the University.

On the hiring of a financial expert to handle bonding matters, Selleck said the nearly $3.5 million issue, to be made this November or December, will not include construction of married student housing.

He said the University does qualify for federal loans in such construction, but only if local bond bids are more than 1.1 per cent off the federal offer.

W. C. Farmer Dies Suddenly

Wayne C. Farmer, 54, of 3921 Dudley, died of a heart attack at his home Friday night, according to the attending physician.

A resuscitator call brought firemen to the scene, but the attempt to revive him failed. He was pronounced dead at his home by the physician.

Mr. Farmer had associated with the Standard Reliance Insurance Co. since 1934, serving for several years as secretary and treasurer. He had been in the insurance business since 1925.

A native Nebraskan, he was educated in the Syracuse Public Schools and was a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

He was a past president of the Lincoln Kiwanis Club and past master of Craftsman Lodge 314, AF&M. He was currently serving as deputy-governor of the Nebraska Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Local Education Meets Planned

The National and State School Boards Association plan for community conferences on education will be followed in Nebraska this fall, Mrs. J. E. Conklin, president of the Nebraska Council for Better Education announced.

Twenty-five communities have been selected for the conferences. Local representatives of several state groups have been formed into a committee to initiate conferences.

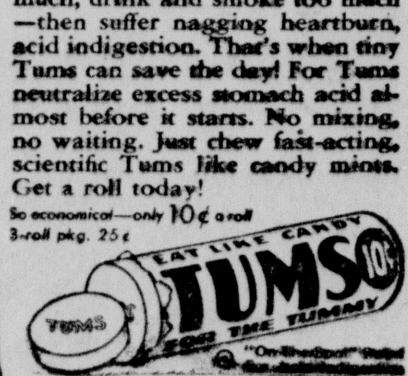

The Nebraska Conference in Education is to be held this fall and the White House conference Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

The NCBE committee reported that over half of the communities contacted have begun to organize for the community conferences. Some will include an entire county and others the school district or surrounding area.

'Don't Worry, I'm With Bill'

Girl, 16, Hidden Five Days Aboard Destroyer At Sea

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A 16-year-old Hawaiian girl was reported a stowaway Friday aboard the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan.

The girl, identified as Joycelin Joan Pilapil, got aboard the warship with some 150 men and officers of the Royal Canadian Navy in Honolulu, naval sources indicated.

The ship had been at sea for five days when she was discovered. Just how the naval sources said was a mystery.

At Hilo, Hawaii, the parents of the stowaway said she left a note before she ran away.

"Folks, I can't stay here any longer so I'm going away with Bill," the note read. "So don't worry."

It was signed "Joyce."

Her father, Fremin Pilapil of Papaaloa, works on a sugar plantation. Mrs. Pilapil said she didn't know Bill except that he "worked on one of the ships someplace."

Joycelin was reported missing July 29. The Athabaskan left July 31.

'PRETTY PEG' AND HUSBAND ARE PARTED

NEW YORK (INS)—"Television" was named the villain in the broken marriage of diminutive Peggy King, singing star of the George Gobel show.

After 2½ years, Peggy told me Friday, her one-time happy marriage of both career and romance had its option dropped. Her husband is "Knobby" King, first trumpeter in Liberace's TV and touring orchestra.

They met when Peggy was featured vocalist with dance bands such as Charlie Spivak and Ralph Flanagan.

"It's just one of those show-business things," Peggy shrugged. "We both get very busy working very hard on our separate shows, and all of a sudden we had drifted apart."

"I'll get a legal separation right away. I expect we'll get a divorce. But still if there's any possible way we can get back together again with some semblance of normalcy, I'll certainly try."

Freed Airman— Gets Story About Wife From Radio

—She's Uncertain

TOKYO (AP)—Eleven U.S. airmen arrived here on their way home to loved ones after 32 months of imprisonment in Red China — one bearing the leaked-out secret that his wife married another man because she thought he was dead.

Airman 2 C. Daniel C. Schmidt, 22, of Redding, Calif., chanced to hear on a broadcast in the Philippines of what the Air Force was still reluctant to tell him.

He appeared relaxed and smiled with the other 10 for cameramen at Tachikawa Air Base after they arrived from Manila in two C-54 transports, one of them the famed Bataan, former personal plane of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Schmidt hoped to talk by telephone Saturday to his wife, Una, in California. She was reported to be weighing the idea of leaving both him and her No. 2 husband, Alford Fine, a logging tractor driver, so that both of them might court her to a decision. She is the mother of Schmidt's 2½-year-old son, Daniel, whom the airman has never seen.

After the airport reception, the 11 were taken to the base hospital for complete physical checkups.

Official word here on their stay in Tokyo was that it would be "for several days."

(In Washington, Air Force headquarters said the 11 would fly out of Japan on Wednesday, Japan time, and arrive about 30 hours later at Travis Air Force Base north of San Francisco after a refueling stop at McChord AFB, Washington.

(The Air Force said families of the fliers would be reunited with them at Travis. Two military transports will gather up the relatives in the United States and fly them there.)

Kansas City Star Monopoly Charge Brings $5,000 Fine

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Star was fined $5,000 in federal court Friday on charges of monopolizing the dissemination of news and advertising in the Kansas City area.

Emil E. Sees, advertising manager of the Star, was fined $2,500 on a charge of attempted monopolization.

Federal Judge Richard Duncan, before assessing the penalties, overruled motions by both the Star and Sees to set aside their conviction on the charges by a jury in District Court here last February.

The jury convicted the Star of both attempted monopolization and of monopolization itself. Sees, who did not become advertising manager of the newspaper until 1950, was convicted only of attempted monopolization.

A civil suit asking that the Star be restrained from the alleged monopolistic practices is pending.

Both the newspaper and Sees sought to have the verdict set aside and a verdict of acquittal entered, or if not that, then for a new trial. Judge Duncan refused to set aside the verdict and denied the new trial.

The judge said, however, in his formal order, that although the Star had been convicted both of attempted monopolization and of monopolization itself, he had concluded the newspaper "cannot be penalized for both" and "that I do not propose to do."

Mrs. Stearns, 88, Dies At Logan, Ia.

Mrs. Nellie Stearns, 88, the mother of two Lincoln women, died at her home at Logan, Ia., Wednesday night.

Mrs. Stearns, who had formerly lived in Lincoln, would have observed her 90th birthday Thursday. Her Lincoln daughters are Mrs. Hugh Atkinson and Mrs. Ernest Walt.

Ten Teachers Of Retarded Finish Course

Ten Nebraska teachers who work with mentally retarded children have completed an 8-week training course in Lincoln.

The teacher-trainees, in addition to campus study, operated two 12-member daily classes for retarded youngsters at Park School.

Their work was supervised by two visiting specialists, Delilah Newell of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Maude Buckingham, special education consultant for Louisiana.

Dr. Marshall S. Hisey, University of Nebraska professor of educational psychology and special education, was co-ordinator.

The course was conducted by the university, Lincoln Board of Education and State Department of Education with the aid of scholarships from the American Legion Auxiliary, State PTA Congress and Beta Sigma Phi, businesswomen's sorority.

Teachers who took the course: Mrs. Alma S. Jobst, Lincoln, special education teacher at Havelock; Elsie M. Danksin, Lincoln, LARC School; Mrs. Esther Yang, Lincoln, special education teacher at Elliott; Mrs. Frieda Mason, Lincoln, Yankee Hill; Mrs. Ann Wilson, Lincoln, special education teacher at Everett; Mrs. Gladys B. Jackson, Lincoln, state home for children; Mrs. Mary Holm, Lincoln, special education teacher at Whittier; Mrs. Ida Lehnhus, Emerson, kindergarten and special education; Mrs. Ann Dillon, Fremont, Washington School; Jacobine Hoyt, Sidney, special education teacher.

Who Owns Road? Woman Curious

Who owns the road? That's what Mrs. Thelma C. Olson, operator of a trailer court on Theresa St. between 25th and 27th, would like to know.

She took her problem to the trustees of Sanitary District No. 1 and asked them to pin the responsibility down for her. The big problem, she says, is the possibility of car accidents on the street which might be pinned on her as her property.

District trustees promised to look into the matter. Mrs. Olson concluded: "Let's find out who it belongs to. I don't want any part of it."

City Bonfires Banned

Until Soaking Rain

All bonfires in the city have been banned during the present dry spell, on order of Chief E. Paul Feaster.

Feaster said four to five bad fires have resulted from bonfires. He gave as a reason for the ban the dryness of grass. The order will be in effect until the city gets a good soaking rain, Feaster said.

AT MILLER'S

Shop Daily 9:30 to 5:20

Seen behind the scenes

"Meet Me at Miller's"

There was a certain sociability about shopping at Mr. J. E. Miller's little store in the '30s. Friend met friend for a bit of chat, while selecting "black or colored cashmere" by the yard, or a hank of "that elegant Kankakee yarn."

As Miller's expanded in stone and steel, with a thriving Lincoln, many new SERVICES and COMFORTS were added, and the store with the reputation for quality merchandise became a veritable community center, enwrapped with the daily lives of southeastern Nebraskans.

These SERVICES and COMFORTS ease the business of shopping for the Miller & Paine customer. She leaves messages in the appointment book at the East entranceway (a valued liaison between downtown friends.) She relaxes in the ample women's lounge, or seeks the quiet of the cot room. If there is an invalid in the family who enjoys a trip to Miller's she knows advance request can be made for a comfortable wheel chair to be brought to the entranceway. She welcomes the expert instruction given without charge in the Sewing Salon and Knitting School . . . and the talents of the interior decorating staff and the bridal consultant. She makes use of concentrated services at the Downstairs Store Service Desk for checking packages, buying stamps and money orders, mailing packages. Baby strollers are available . . . and her purchases are delivered speedily to the Car-Park (so close to the Crossroads).

Luncheon in Miller's charcoal-and-rose-decor tea room makes a pleasant break in her shopping day . . . the Downstairs Luncheonette if pressed for time. There's always a "Welcome, come in" sign over the Auditorium entrance, which opens onto fashion shows, art exhibits, home decoration and community service programs, and beautifully conceived interior arrangements and table settings.

Small wonder, then, that a fourth generation of Nebraskans are now saying: "Meet me at Miller's."

Hastening The Future

A summer of international conferences, mostly devoted to lowering war pressures, is made even brighter by a special one opening in Geneva, Switzerland, Monday.

World scientists will gather there in a great symposium dedicated to the uses of nuclear fission for peacetime projects.

Atoms-for-peace is truly an exciting subject for fission has placed in human hands massive enough power literally to move mountains. The age we live in is a far cry from the day of the pyramid builders when years and thousands of men were required to raise a mound of stones. Man can now actually engage in face lifting the earth, converting deserts to regions of lush fertility, moderating climates, changing the courses of streams. Reflecting on the prospect one is apt to exclaim, "We are just beginning to live."

One can take pride in the leading role the United States is playing in promoting international participation in nuclear development. It was a moment of realistic enlightenment when the task of hastening a great future called for the summoning of many helping hands.

He Didn't Say No

Once again, Russia's Bulganin wants it understood, the foreign press stubbed its toe when it reported that Russia (meaning the men in the Kremlin) had turned down President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military information and mutual aerial inspection.

Naturally, Bulganin said, Soviet Russia prefers its own disarmament proposal but will not refuse to give consideration to other plans.

If Russia did not say "no," as matters now stand Russia did not say "yes." Which occasions no surprise on the part of anyone, only confirming the tradition of Russian behavior which has become so deeply rooted. Chances are that the President's proposal for an exchange of military information coupled with mutual aerial inspection will land in dry dock, not for the purpose of scraping it of barnacles but to permit it to gather barnacles.

What is taking place clearly is a waiting game. At that the Russians are very good. They have been at it a long time—long enough so that time itself notwithstanding the grueling costs of an uncurbed armament race punishes them even as it punishes the rest of the world. And the toe-dancing act which the Kremlin is staging clearly calls for patience on our own part—patience—and then more patience. The President was well advised when he refused to become excited over reports that the Russians had turned thumbs down on his Geneva plea primarily seeking to curb armament costs.

A Little Loosehanded

The adjournment of Congress and the quiet that now prevails over the halls of the lawmakers serves to remind us that the season of the junket is at hand.

Increasingly in recent years, since the United States received the scepter of global leadership our congressmen have found business overseas between sessions. This year it appears that a new record for world travel is in store. The Atoms For Peace conference will claim on-the-spot observation at Geneva, Switzerland by both House and Senate members. And there are task forces dispatching to Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Italy, the Middle East and South Africa.

World touring lawmakers, it must be conceded, are not out of order in a nation that has a great world responsibility. In principle the nation approves of an informed Congress.

But while junketing is old as a domestic institution it is comparatively recent on a world scale and the public could stand a little reassuring on the necessity of all the globe-circling tours. The cost cannot be determined under the present framework for a certain portion of the expense does not show in congressional appropriations. Except in Latin America and Australia Congressmen can draw on counterpart funds earmarked for United States' use in the lands they visit. All countries receiving American aid set aside an equivalent amount in a special fund, 10 per cent of which is available for defraying administrative and other expenses of government. From such sources some visiting Congressmen receive a good deal of benefit. It would be better if it were not so. Public confidence would be strengthened if the junketing expenses were carefully recorded and if each tour were approved only after it had been determined fully justified.

Water Paradox

An English girl just swam from Capri to Naples. A Canadian girl swam the English channel. Alberto Aberfondo of Argentine spurned his home waters, preferring the muddy Mississippi instead. He did some 221 miles downstream from St. Louis before exhaustion stopped him.

No one seems to want to take a dip at home any more. It bothers us and it also bothers the St. Louis Post-Dispatch which observed pensively that "about the last local boy to make any reputation in his home waters was Leander who swam the Hellespont, and he failed to go places in the end."

Editorial Of The Day

Up Go Down-Payments

(From The St. Louis Post Dispatch)

The Housing Administration's order increasing down payments on all homes bought with Government-insured mortgages has stimulated few cheers where real estate men and builders gather to toast the booming housing market.

To the contrary, the action has been denounced in sharp tones by both the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Association of Home Builders. The builders, for example, employed such phraseology as "untimely . . . unwise . . . arbitrary . . ."

Whether the order is all or none of these things is something only time can prove. But one thing is certain: It is most modest. It lifts Veterans and Federal Housing Administration requirements by a mere 2 per cent. In the case of VA-insured loans this means veterans can no longer buy a house without a penny of down payment. They now must put up at least 2 per cent. The new FHA down payments will be only 7 per cent instead of 5 on the first $9,000 of appraised value and 27 per cent instead of 25 of the value in excess of $9,000.

Federal Housing Administrator Cole says the increase is merely a "temporary precaution" to prevent the housing industry from contributing inflationary pressures to the economy. On that basis it deserves support, not denunciation. After all, if experience shows construction is hurt unnecessarily it will be no trick to relax credit restrictions again.

Political Friends Contract Hungry

WASHINGTON — The full story of how Harold Talbott played politics with the nation's air force for the benefit of political friends is a long way from being told. It penetrates deep into the American political system and illustrates how those who contribute in presidential campaigns claim — and sometimes get — defense contracts.

And since the Air Force is now the most important arm of American offense-defense, and because there is no place where politics is more dangerous than the armed services, this column intends to tell more of the Talbott story. It will take several installments.

The first installment pertains to the manner in which Talbott canceled two contracts with the American Hydrotherm Co., in favor of a company newly organized by the brother of Gov. Caleb Boggs of Delaware.

The new company had practically no personnel, little experience and was incorporated only on May 18 to begin a job on June 30. Yet Talbott took unusual steps to let it get the job — after receiving letters from Senators John William of Delaware and John Butler of Maryland, Republicans.

The breaking of the American Hydrotherm contract was somewhat similar to Talbott's attempted breaking of the Kaiser company's contract for an aluminum extrusion press near Baltimore. Harvey Aluminum officials had contributed to the Eisenhower campaign, and Talbott, a big campaign money raiser, wanted to help them.

FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT

Here is the amazing story of how politics governed the Air Force award of an important contract.

American Hydrotherm first got the Air Force contract to heat the MATS base at Mountain Home, Idaho. It was a negotiated contract based on the bids of three or four qualified heating experts; and while being negotiated, American Hydrotherm offered to furnish the experts for heating Dover, Del., and McGuire field at Fort Dix for 10 per cent less.

The Air Force agreed and a five-year contract, subject to cancellation at the end of every year, was tentatively arranged.

Time, however, dragged on. And when it came to final signing, the Air Force demanded that the contract be not for five years but subject to cancellation every 30 days.

What had happened was that the politically minded secretary of the Air Force, anxious to please senators, had written a letter to Sen. John Marshall Butler of Maryland stating that a mistake had been made and that he would see that the heating contracts were cancelled and re-advertised.

The American Hydrotherm company immediately protested. "You've already made public our bid," Oliver Johnson, the Hydrotherm representative told air materiel procurement, "now you give the price of our manpower to our competitors and our competitors can come in and underbid us."

American Hydrotherm's contract was to expire June 30. On June 29 its representatives went to Wright field, were told the Air Force couldn't talk, to come back at noon.

At noon, the word was "we can tell you nothing, come back at 2 p.m."

At 2 p.m., the word was "come back at 4 p.m." — Then at 4:30 At 4:50, they were told: "We are under instructions to say nothing to you."

"But we are under contract," Johnson protested. "That contract expires at Midnight June 30. We have a force of men on the job. In fairness we have to give them notice. You can't fire 60 men without notice."

Despite this, it was only at 4:30 p.m. on June 30 that American Hydrotherm's installation engineer at Dover and McGuire field were told by total strangers that someone else was taking over. The delay in notification obviously was for the purpose of letting the new company hire the old technicians away from American Hydrotherm.

The new company turned out to be Plant Management Corp., organized a few weeks before by Calvin Boggs, brother of the Republican governor of Delaware, friendly to both Secretary Talbott and Sen. Williams of Delaware. Governor Boggs was put in office with the heavy backing of the DuPont family, one of the biggest contributors to the Republican party. Talbott was chief money-raiser for the GOP in both 1948 and 1952.

POLITICAL KNOW-HOWS

The Air Force is supposed to let contracts only to "responsible companies with adequate personnel and know-how. However, the Boggs-organized company, at the time it bid, had a personnel of only three or four technical people. Thanks to Air Force delaying tactics, however, it managed to hire all the 22 men American Hydrotherm had at McGuire field.

At Dover, the Boggs group also managed to hire Clyde Thompson, who had quit American Hydrotherm a few weeks earlier for alleged "medical reasons." Despite his alleged bad health, Thompson turned up later working with the Boggs firm. He had access to cost figures and know-how of the company which had plenty of technical know-how but not political know-how.

At Dover, the Boggs group is now operating with three men instead of the 23 men used by American Hydrotherm. Only one of them had any experience running a high temperature plant. It is paid $186,845.36 at Dover and $190,859 at McGuire field.

Note — Here is how the DuPonts of Delaware contributed to the Republican party when Harold Talbott was chief money-raiser for Dewey in 1948: Lamont Du Pont, $2,000; Irene Du Pont Jr., $2,000; Irene Du Pont Sr., $2,000; I. Sophie Du Pont May, $2,000; Octavia M. Du Pont Bredin, $1,000; Mariana M. Du Pont Silliman, $2,000; Lucile Du Pont Flint, $2,000; R. R. Carpenter (a Du Pont in-law), $2,000; Pierre S. Du Pont, 3rd, $2,000.

In Step With The Sower

While the average person eagerly grabs his morning paper to find out what predictions the weather bureau makes for the day, the Sower must confess to being somewhat of a traitor to the source of his daily bread and butter.

We pass up the daily predictions of the meteorologists and wait until we get the predictions of "Lefty" Lefferdink, Arch Donovan, mailman on the Capitol staff. He pays no attention to the "high" and "low" areas but bases his predictions on other factors.

Early in the week, when we were about ready to accept shorts as the proper male attire, "Lefty" assured us that a change in temperature would arrive before the week was out. He recalled an old gauge on what weather was in store for the Midwest.

"When there is a full moon, you can expect a change in weather within a span of five days," he confidently asserted. "It will come within two days before and two days after the day of the full moon."

The high temperatures the past two weeks made it appear that "dog days" had arrived on the news front at the Statehouse. We made the mistake of voicing this view in the office of the secretary of state.

"What do you mean, there is nothing going on?" they shouted in chorus, halting momentarily to mop moist brows notwithstanding an air-conditioner that partially cools the office.

"One of the busiest seasons of our year's work always comes during the hottest days of the year," they continued.

It was then explained that they are now in the process of receiving, checking and mailing receipts to the 4,600 corporations which have paid taxes to transact business in the state. The due date is Aug. 1

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

How Can I Be Lonely?

One is walking with me
Over life's uneven way,
Constantly supporting me
Each moment of the day;
How can I be lonely
When such fellowship is mine,
With my blessed Lord divine!

Days may bring their burdens
And their trials as I go,
But my Lord is near and helps
To make them lighter grow.
Life may have its crosses,
Or its losses or increase,
Jesus meets them all with peace.

In the hour of sad bereavement
Or of bitter loss,
I can find support and consolation
At the cross;
Want or woe or suffering
All seem glorified
When He daily walks and talks with me.

In life's rosy morning
When the skies above are clear,
In its noon-tide hours
With many cares and problems near;
Or when evening shadows fall
At closing of my day
Jesus will be there always.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Strangely enough, it was a feeling of extreme loneliness which prompted the singing evangelist, Haldor Lillenas, to put together the message and the music of this well-known hymn.

He went to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, one day to lead the signing at a church convention, and when he arrived at the place of meeting he found a cold and empty church. Perhaps the fact that he had been away from home and "on the road" for some time was partly responsible for the sense of loneliness that came over him. But the gray, foggy day outside seemed cheerless, too.

Mr. Lillenas began to explore his church surroundings. At last, in a little basement room he found an organ. He sat down and began to play and, according to his own story of the incident given later, the words and music of "How Can I Be Lonely?" began to take form in his mind and on the organ keys.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Before I turn over the YWCA executive directorship to my successor, I wish to express my appreciation to The Star for the large amount and the fine quality of publicity which has been given to the YWCA over the years. The community of Lincoln supports the YWCA to a remarkable degree, partially due no doubt to the fact that The Star helps to keep our program of activities before the public.

City Auditorium

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The city auditorium is now being built in a congested area with material at fantastic prices, and at a time when concrete is unobtainable by the average individual. Presumably a shortage in supply. What a poor time to be doing so much construction with taxpayers' money.

Did the letting of the auditorium contract automatically terminate the auditorium levy? In other words, are the taxpayers finished with paying for this auditorium?

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Emergency Route

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Maybe I place too high a value upon human life, but I feel an ambulance on an emergency call should be given equal priority with a fire truck or any other emergency vehicle. Thursday I witnessed an incident that may have cost a human life.

We live in the middle of a 16-block paving project. At the present time to get out of the area as a pedestrian, one needs be a mountain goat to climb the mountain ridges of dirt. At times it is impossible to drive to the nearest project exit to get onto a street not under construction. People had been discussing what would happen should the need for emergency aid arise. Thursday we learned!

A man was overcome while working in our alley. An ambulance was called. Result—over a half hour later and a second call to re-route the vehicle, the aid got to the man—too late!

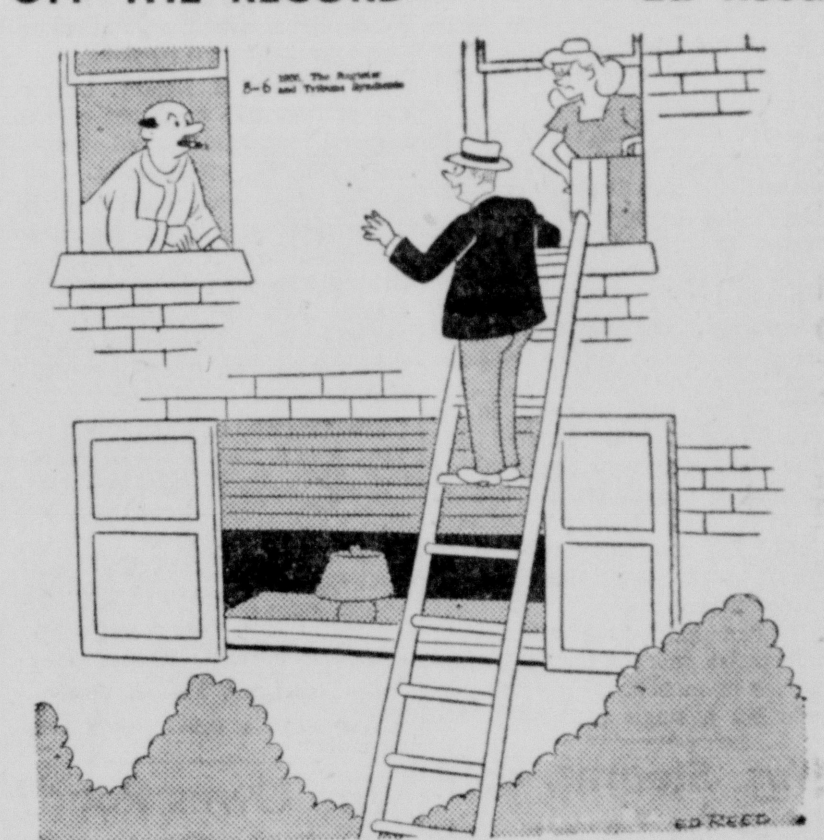

The ambulance men and police officers on the scene did their best to find a route to the victim, but road construction machinery, piles of dirt and barricades halted them. Finally neighbors found an alley approach open, reported this to the police station, which in turn informed the ambulance man. This all took valuable minutes.

Maybe I'm too practical because I believe in an ounce of prevention, but please, you city government wizards and engineering geniuses, tell me this. Are the few days lost by leaving some streets open to the public and emergency vehicles worth a human life? Why tear up both north-south and east-west streets all at the same time? Why not leave north-south streets open while you work on the east-west streets so a fire truck or an ambulance could at least get through the alleys if the parallel streets were torn up? I see no need for emergency vehicles to have to use lawns to get to the street because the alley approach is blocked. I do not begrudge their using this exit, but I feel it should be unnecessary.

We expect our city officials to use their mental ability sufficient-

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Site of the proposed and controversial Hells Canyon dam, which was back in the headlines again as result of a decision by the Federal Power Commission, is not easily accessible to man. It is rough country surrounding that particular canyon of the Snake River, tough on man and beast, which means that those who may have an interest in the quarrel over who should or who should not build dams in that region of the Snake watershed necessarily encounter difficulties in any attempt at an on-spot inspection. That contributes to public confusion, uncertainty, and ignorance.

The Idaho Power Company was one up on those insisting that Uncle Sam should construct Hells Canyon in preference to a private utility. By unanimous decision, the Federal Power Commission granted the utility a 50-year license to substitute three smaller dams along a 100-mile stretch of the Snake River on the rugged Idaho-Oregon boundary, for Hells Canyon, construction of the three dams to be financed by the private company. On the same day that the Federal Power Commission reached its decision (July 27, shortly in advance of congressional adjournment but not announced publicly until Thursday), a House reclamation subcommittee by the hairline vote of 14 to 13 gave approval to the $464 million Hells Canyon project. There is no overstatement in the observation that the Hells Canyon dam, if the power commission is sustained in event of appeal by proponents of Hells Canyon, is out the window and at the same time as the hopes for its ultimate development fade, it should be recognized as of greater significance, perhaps, than merely just another public power development.

Hells Canyon, we are told—and this particular note has been missing in most of the discussion—is a "natural" for the production of commercial fertilizer. Not far from it are huge invaluable deposits of phosphates and other materials contributing to the restoration and fertility of aging land. If this is true, then the Middle West and its farms, getting no younger year by year, have a stake. For, fully developed, Hells Canyon, producing the maximum of electricity in close proximity to the phosphate beds, could become a source of commercial fertilizer to restore the productivity of America's great food-producing region.

It is so natural and at the same time so effective to use catch phrases in developing slogans bearing upon any controversy. We speak, for example, of "creeping Socialism"—whatever the term actually means in everyday affairs—in order to justify the drastically changed policy in the development of natural resources that has been initiated in Washington under the present administration.

If one of the objectives in Uncle Sam's program of developing Hells Canyon is to take 100 per cent advantage of supplying cheap commercial fertilizer for the rural areas of the Midwest, then Hells Canyon does not rate simply as another power project. Here in Nebraska the individual farmer more and more is being drawn to the application of commercial fertilizer to his land in order to do a better job of farming. He has found that when it comes to wheat, it is not infrequent that his yield increases as much as 10 bushels per acre. Other small grains benefit equally. And corn fields enriched through use of commercial fertilizer generally have shown a corresponding and satisfactory increase in productivity. The fight, so the news columns report, will continue. That follows natural lines.

What adds to it is that the realities of the electrical age, when power itself is an indispensable part of modern life on the farm and in the city, place greater emphasis on the ultimate outcome. There will be no immediate crystallization of national policy. Previous to the present administration, Uncle Sam gave his encouragement to developments of the character of Hells Canyon and to TVA and scores of other undertakings. That has changed. The change itself has not yet made results clear to the American people. That awakening will come in due time.

Airports To Get Triple '54 Funds

...Spurt Expected

Nebraskans can expect a spurt in airport improvement the next few years, a State Aeronautics Department spokesman said.

Congress has increased appropriations of funds available if matched by either a city or the state or by the two jointly.

Federal aid totaling $759,000 is available to Nebraska for the current fiscal year and each of the three succeeding years.

Only $235,000 in federal funds was available for Nebraska airport improvement last year and none was available the year before.

The appropriation increase means airport improvement which has been curtailed in recent years can be revived, State Airport Engineers S. R. Gilbert said.

A $100,000 runway duffing job at Chadron probably will be one of the first projects in the state, he said. Chadron has assured the state it has its share of funds ready.

Gilbert said the appropriation increase puts the state department in a position to "go out and talk to the cities" about improvements.

The new Congressional bill leaves unused funds at the end of the year available during the next fiscal year for which it was appropriated.

The new system, allowing more time for planning, is similar to the program followed for years in allocation of federal funds for highways.

It gives time for cities to vote bond issues or make other moves to raise money to match federal funds, Gilbert said.

21 Refugees Come To State

Twenty-one refugees bound for Nebraska, including six Latvians who will live in Lincoln, will arrive in New York Saturday.

They are among 1,205 refugees arriving from Bremerhaven, Germany, on the Navy transport General Langfitt.

Oliver Joy, 3426 Mohawk, is sponsor for Leonid Koptelov, 42, a painter, his wife Minna and their two-year-old child, Sigrid.

The other three Latvians coming to Lincoln are Elvira Strazdins and her children, Lilita, 14, and Gunars, 11. Their sponsor is Karl Kaukis, 3940 W.

Others coming to Nebraska:

David City — Josef Palatova, 29, a cook from the Czech Soviet Republic.

Lincoln — Lydia Lauer of Russia and her children, Paul, 18, a toolmaker, and Valentine, 17, a typist. Gustav A. Schroeder of Lincoln, sponsor.

Norfolk — Maria Handl, 17, from Czechoslovakia. Mother Consolata Bohrer of Norfolk, sponsor. Helmut L. Schwarz, 43, German farmworker, wife Anneliese, and child Bodo, 10. Arthur B. Peters of Norfolk, sponsor.

Omaha — Edith Penner, 21, German dressmaker. William A. Pfeiffer, sponsor.

Elmer Olson Named Omaha Bank Officer

OMAHA — Elmer C. Olson, former vice president and cashier of the Platte Valley State Bank in Kearney, was named vice president of the South Omaha Bank.

The announcement was made by C. B. Newman, president, following a meeting of the board of directors.

York Restraining Order Remains In Effect

Action Will Halt Transfer Of Property

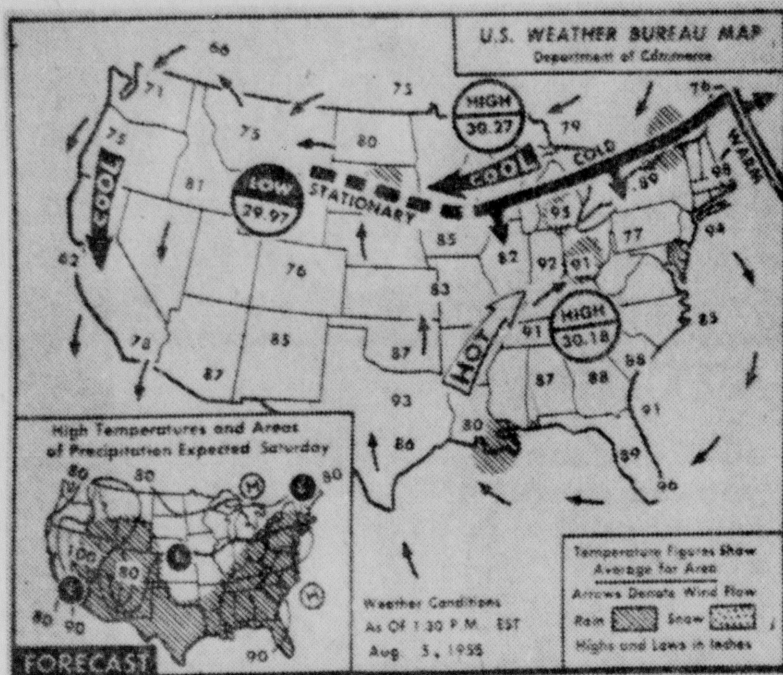

YORK, Neb. (AP)—District Judge H. Emerson Kokjer ruled Friday that a restraining order issued July 20 against the board of trustees of York College will remain in effect until the petition is heard.

C. E. Jenkins, on behalf of himself and other contributors to the now closed college, sought the restraining order to prevent transfer, sale, gift, lease, loan or other disposition of any funds or properties of the school.

Kokjer amended the order to allow the trustees to pay current outstanding bills and to incur necessary expenses for the maintenance and protection of the property. The board was given this authorization for one year with the option to renew it for like periods during the life of the restraining order.

MacFadden Named To Clay County Office

CLAY CENTER, Neb. — Karl MacFadden, well known Clay Center resident, has been named clerk of the district court, succeeding William Matteson, who resigned.

Slightly Warmer Weather Forecast

It will become slightly warmer in the central Plains Saturday. Rain is predicted over many parts of the country. Hot and humid weather will continue in the middle and south Atlantic states, southern Ohio Valley and in the Tennessee Valley. Slightly cooler weather is slated for New England, northern Appalachians, northern Ohio Valley and lower Lakes regions. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures through Wednesday will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal. Warming trend during the week and minor daily changes thereafter. Normal highs upper 80s, normal lows upper 50s west to middle 60s east. Average precipitation less than .50 of an inch, occurring as scattered thundershowers mostly early in the period.

Nebraskans Will Confer With Nixon

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska Republicans probably will have a conference in Omaha Sept. 20 with Vice President Nixon, State Republican Chairman William Spear of Fremont said Friday.

Spear was in Omaha Friday exploring the possibility of setting up a meeting. Nixon will be in Omaha to talk to the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

Searle Released From KOA Post

DENVER (AP)—Don Searle, former west coast vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., was released as executive vice president and general manager of Denver stations KOA and KOA-TV, with owner William Grant Jr., citing "differences of opinion concerning policy matters."

Searle declined comment, and did not make known his plans. He joined KOA in 1952. Searle said he is the owner of radio stations at Colby, Kan., Grand Island, Neb., and Des Moines, Ia.

Searle is well known in Lincoln and Omaha where he was formerly identified with radio stations.

Emil Nelson, 59, Of Potter Is Dead

POTTER, Neb. — Funeral services for Emil Nelson, 59, longtime Potter civic leader, will be held here Saturday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Born in Potter, he was a World War I veteran. He was VFW commander here and district American Legion commander in 1948-49. He was also a charter member of the Potter Masonic Lodge and Methodist Church. He was a western Cheyenne County farmer and implement dealer.

Missouri Due To Begin Rise

OMAHA (AP)—The Missouri River was due to start rising again after reaching a summer record low stake of 4.4 of a foot.

The approaching upturn was heralded by rises upstream.

At Ft. Randall Dam in South Dakota the water was being released at a rate of 32,000 cubic feet per second Friday. At Gavins Point, where the waters of the Niobrara River were added the figure was raised to 34,000 second feet.

At 8 a.m. Friday seven feet of water was going over the spillway at Gavins Point Dam. The Corps of Engineers said this flow will be stabilized at 7½ feet for the remainder of the summer.

Services Held For Mrs. Floy Jones, Long Nebraskan

Lincoln Star Special
ALLEN, Neb.—Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church here for Mrs. Floy A. Jones, 94, longtime resident of Nebraska.

Born in Iowa, she moved with her parents to Jefferson County in 1876. In 1878 she and her husband moved to Kansas by covered wagon, a distance of 400 miles, where they lived for 11 years. Later they came to Dixon County, Nebraska. She was an active member of the Methodist Church for many years.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. John Beth of Box Elder, S.D., Mrs. A. R. Wilson, Newport, Beach, Calif., Mrs. Vera Binkerd of Omaha and Mrs. Joe Carr of Allen; three sons, C. A. of Los Angeles, Glen of Rogers, Ariz., and Dale of Allen; 21 grandchildren, 35 great grandchildren, two great great grandchildren, a sister, a brother, three half sisters and one half brother.

Max Klug Dies; Prominent Stock Raiser At Norfolk

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Max Klug, 60, widely known Norfolk livestock man died of a heart attack Friday while loading hogs at his farm home north of here.

Born at Norfolk, he spent his entire life in this community. On March 4, 1919, he was married to Ada Friederich of Norfolk, who survives him, along with their daughter, Mrs. Warren Scherer of Norfolk, two grandchildren, two sisters and one brother.

Klug frequently went on big game hunting expeditions in Canada.

Mrs. Klug was helping her husband when he was stricken.

Staplehurst Land Sells For $65,950

SEWARD, Neb. (AP)—Two parcels of land north of Staplehurst sold at auction by the heirs of Mary and Daniel Kenney brought $65,950. The land included 314 acres in Seward County and 80 acres in Butler County. Also included was a vacant property in Ulysses which was sold to the Catholic Church there.

Lake McConaughy Lowest In Nine Years

Lincoln Star Special
OGALLALA, Neb. —Storage water in Lake McConaughy dropped below one million acre feet for the first time in nine years on August 1.

The huge two million acre feet capacity lake on the North Platte River near Ogallala, has been pouring out some 8,000 acre feet of water daily for several weeks to meet maximum irrigation needs on approximately 210,000 acres of Platte River watershed lands as record temperatures and searing winds threatened crops throughout the state.

Records of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District, which owns and operates Lake McConaughy, show that the water level the storage was below one million acre feet was in October of 1946. At that time, however, the water level was rising instead of falling. In fact, it was on the long-sustained rise since the lake's initial filling to 800,000 acre feet in 1942. From September 1, 1946 to August 1, 1947, it gained 770,000 acre feet of water.

It was the storing of this excess flow of 1946-47 which has enabled the reservoir, with only seasonal additions, to meet the irrigation needs of this and the past irrigation seasons. The slightly less than one million acre feet new in the lake, is the accumulation from January 1941, to January 1, 1946.

Officials of the Central Nebraska District estimate that the lake will be drawn down to about 750,000 acre feet before irrigation demands cease in October, unless rains come to relieve the situation. This would put the water level at its lowest point since January of 1945.

The lands served with storage water from Lake McConaughy are 105,500 acres in the Tri-County area of Gosper, Phelps and Kearney counties; 6,000 acres along the Central District's supply canal in Dawson and Lincoln counties; and about 100,000 acres served by on-river canals in Keith, Lincoln, Dawson and Buffalo counties.

In addition to the irrigation benefits on the over 210,000 acres of highly productive Platte River watershed lands, the enormous

This Tale Is Unbelievable

OMAHA (AP)—Postal clerk Joe Weber says nobody has to believe it but it did happen to him.

A woman walked up to his counter and tendered a $5 savings certificate to be cashed in. Weber told her it would cost a dime because the certificate hadn't been held for a month.

"I don't have a dime," the lady exclaimed and hurried away before Weber could tell her he could take it out of the $5.

Soon she was back with a dime. "I borrowed it," she smiled.

Weber took the certificate and the dime and pushed out a $5 bill. "Please change it. I have to pay back the loan," the lady said.

Dry Weather Reflected In Storage Drop

The above graph shows the year by year rise and fall of storage water in the Lake McConaughy reservoir since Kingsley Dam was completed in January 1941. For the first time since the fall of 1946, the lake holds less than one million acre feet of water due to this year's extremely warm and dry weather. Notice the sustained gain of 770,000 acre feet from September, 1946, to Aug. 1, 1947, a storage reserve which has been drawn upon for the present and past eight crop seasons. (Special to The Star.)

amount of water released through Kingsley Dam has aided materially in meeting record demands for electricity to power pump irrigation installations and to meet the state's heavy air conditioner load. It is this storage water which runs the generators of the Central Nebraska District's three power plants, and together with storage in Sutherland Reservoir, the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District's North Platte power plant.

Hydrologists estimate that were it not for Lake McConaughy storage water the Platte River would be dry from Keystone to Columbus and no water would be available for on-river canals on that part of the river. The meagre natural flow in the river at Lewellen would disappear long before it reached the headgates of the irrigation canals down the river.

But now this natural flow is carried down the river with the storage water and is available without loss or diminution to the canals which are entitled to it. The Kearney Canal, with the oldest priority on the river and the farthest east canal, is one of the main beneficiaries of this "piggy back" operation as the meagre natural flow rides the storage water down the Platte River.

MAGEE'S

Saturday Only — 9:30 to 5:30

Davy Crockett may have killed himself a "bar" but Mr. Magee is going to kill himself some buyers if they don't get rid of this "stuff" which we politely call White Elephants. The alleged buyers admit some of these things have served quite a spell on their shelves and in the stockrooms but they are reluctant to say that they actually "gooled." The only way to save their necks is to get rid of this merchandise, pronto. So you benefit by their blunders and also keep them on the payroll. Besides, we know you'll get a mammoth wallop out of pawing through this mess and you can bet your best muzzle-loader that you'll uncover some real good White Elephants at fabulously low prices. (The buyers will shed a tear to see such good merchandise going for such a small fee.) So, put on your coonskin hat and shoot down to Magee's early Saturday... it's the biggest White Elephant stampede ever!

ALL PLANS ON SCHEDULE

TOOK TIME out this aym to do a little thumbing through our little red book just to see if everyone arrived — or left — on schedule, and what was what about town. We're happy to report that the guests who were due here late this week are here — that the travelers who were to leave have left, and that the homecomers are home. Everything is under control.

THE guest fivesome we mentioned a few days ago — Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Kilbourne and their three children, Lisa, Lindsay and Clarkie, arrived Thursday evening for a visit with Mrs. Kilbourne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pace Woods. Mr. Kilbourne, we learned, will be here just for the week-end, but Mrs. Kilbourne and the children will linger in Lincoln for a month. AND from New York City has come Miss Barbara Dillman who will spend an indefinite period with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dillman.

UNDERSTAND that the guests Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards had been expecting arrived on Friday evening for a week's stay — The visitors are Mrs. Edwards' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bachman and their daughters, Sharon and Sally of Oakland, Calif.

IN TOWN briefly on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Schmeltin of Sioux City, Ia., formerly of Lincoln, who were en route to their home after a vacation at Grand Lake.

ALSO on the guest list is Mrs. Charles F. Smith of Chicago, who arrived on Wednesday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Roberts.

IN OUR homecomers department this morning we have John Chapman, Jr., who has returned from the first session at Camp Cheley, near Estes Park, Colo. Checked on other members of the young set who are at the Cheley Camps this summer, and learned that they are remaining for both sessions — The Misses Sharon and Judy Smith, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, Jr., won't be home until the end of August, and returning about the same time will be Miss Mary Lou Prewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Prewitt, and Eugene Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene N. Anderson.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browne returned Thursday evening from the Black Hills where they spent a two weeks holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Browne accompanied Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Barber to Estes Park where they remained briefly before going on to the Hills.

THERE'S a fun week-end ahead for various and sundry — Hear that Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Stiner are to be a picnic host and hostess at their summer cabin in Fremont on Saturday evening. Included in the guest eightsome will be Mr. and Mrs.

William Golding, Mr. and Mrs. David Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maley, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yule.

APROPOS of summer and picnics — The week-end of the 13th will find a Lincoln group at the Sand Pits at South Bend — The picnickers will include Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durrie, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin James, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Safford and Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wiedman.

HAVE some unscheduled news this morning, too — It involves Capt. (USN Ret.) and Mrs. V. W. Randecker, their daughters Miss Betty June Randecker and Carolyn, and their son, Vic, who are leaving Lincoln. The Randeckers will be off bag and baggage next week for a month's vacation to be spent at Mrs. Randecker's home in Georgia, and New Orleans. The post-holiday plans call for Ames, Ia., where the family will reside at 1507 Harding Ave., and where Miss Betty June will attend Iowa State College, where she plans to major in chemical engineering.

It seems that various members of a certain femi nine junior high school crowd will be scattered in all four directions before too many days have passed. Before the vacation treks separated the members of the group, however, a mid-summer "get-together" was in order and was held Thursday evening at the Compass room.

DAR Plans Workshops

The forty-four chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Nebraska have completed plans for the organization's district meeting, held early each autumn throughout the state.

Each meeting will convene at 10 o'clock in the morning for a general business session, at which Mrs. J. C. Strain of Hebron, state regent, will preside, and following luncheon, a series of workshops will be held for the purpose of planning the state DAR activities for the coming year.

Chapter delegates also will discuss and plan for the observance of Constitution Day, now called Citizenship Day.

District 1, which includes the Ainsworth, Fremont, Norfolk, Wayne and West Point chapters, will meet Sept. 14 at Ainsworth with the members of the Evergreen Chapter of Ainsworth as hostesses. The one-day session will be held at the Congregational Church.

On Sept. 16, District 2 chapters including Alliance, Crawford, Gordon, Hyannis and Scottsbluff, will meet at Alliance with the Alliance Point Of Rock Chapter as hostess. The meeting will be held in the Palm Room of the Alliance Hotel.

District 3 chapters, Major Isaac Sadler Chapter, Mary Katherine Goddard Chapter and the Omaha Chapter, all of Omaha, and the Nikumi Chapter of Blair, will meet Sept. 21, at the Omaha Athletic Club. Hostess chapter will be the Mary Katherine Goddard Chapter of Omaha.

The Butler-Johnson Chapter of Sutton will be hostess to the District 4 meeting to be held Sept. 20, at the Union Church in Clay Center. District 4 chapters are Fairbury, Fairmont, Hastings, Hebron, Superior and Sutton.

Meeting on Sept. 17, at North Platte, will be the chapters in District 5, including Alma, Cozad, Franklin, Kearney, Lexington, McCook, North Platte and Shelton. Members of the Sioux Lookout Chapter of North Platte will be hostesses at the North Platte Presbyterian Church.

District 6 chapters will hold their annual fall meeting at Beatrice on Sept. 23, when the Elizabeth Montague Chapter of Beatrice will be hostess. The meeting will be held at the Christian Church, 7th and Ella Streets, and chapters attending will be the Deborah Avery Chapter and St. Leger Cowley Chapter of Lincoln, and the Beatrice chapter.

The meeting of District 7 will be held at Broken Bow on Sept. 19, with the General George A. Custer Chapter of Broken Bow as hostess to the district chapters which include Aurora, Broken Bow, Columbus, David City, Grand Island, Stromsburg and York. The meeting will be held at the Methodist Church.

The members of the Jonathan Cass Chapter of Weeping Water will be hostesses to District 8 on Sept. 22, at the Nehawka Methodist Church. Chapters included in the district are Auburn, Falls City, Nebraska City, Plattsmouth and Weeping Water.

State officers who will be directing the organization's activities this year are Mrs. Strain, regent; Mrs. H. L. Blackledge, Kearney vice regent; Mrs. Harold L. Zinnecker, David City, chaplain; Mrs. Folsom Gates, Gordon, recording secretary; Mrs. Cecil V. Bullock, Scottsbluff, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harry Ferguson, McCook, treasurer; Mrs. Dave Ablowich, Grand Island, registrar; Mrs. A. O. Fasser, Fremont, historian; Mrs. H. H. Selleck, Alliance, librarian; Mrs. Horace J. Cary, Kearney, parliamentarian; Mrs. Warren J. Chase, Alexandria, secretary to the state regent; and Mrs. Grant A. Ackerman and Miss Irma Jean Croft, both of Lincoln, assistant editors of the state bulletin.

Nebraska DAR members who are serving in national offices include Mrs. Albert J. Rasmusen of Omaha, who is vice president general and national chairman of Junior American Citizens; and the following national vice chairmen, Mrs. W. P. Venable, Columbus, approved schools; Mrs. Horace Cary, Kearney, conservation; Mrs. Lloyd Ellis, Hastings, DAR Magazine advertising; Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, Lincoln, honor roll; Mrs. Grant A. Ackerman, Lincoln, student loan and scholarship; and Mrs. Frank W. Baker, Omaha, national Red Cross.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Early August Ceremonies

MRS. WAYNE W. BRADLEY

The betrothal and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rosamond Frances Marson, to Vincent Joseph Domenico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy E. Domenico of Denver, Colo., has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Marson of Geneva.

Saturday, Aug. 20, has been chosen for the marriage, which will be solemnized at 10 o'clock in the morning, at the Assumption Church in Denver.

Miss Marson is a graduate of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing in Lincoln, and her fiancé is a graduate of Regis College in Denver, where he is a member of Delta Sigma fraternity.

CHAPEL WEDDING

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Rebecca Denton of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Denton of Ulysses, to A. C. Donald Wroch of Detroit, Mich., which took place on Saturday, July 23, at the Lincoln Air Force Base Chapel.

Mrs. William Bertram of Crete was her sister's matron of honor and the maid of honor was Miss Joan Ward of Ulysses.

The chapel of the First Presbyterian Church at Omaha was appointed with bouquets of pale pink gladioli Friday evening, Aug. 5, for the marriage of Marilyn Krueger Mulder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar P. Krueger of Roca, to Wayne Winston Bradley, son of Wayne W. Bradley of St. Petersburg, Fla. The 7 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. John Swearingin in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, and the wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Kiewitz, organist.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Bryan Johnson of North Platte, who wore a frock of rice taffeta in the aqua tone, fashioned with a snug bodice and full, ballerina-length skirt. She carried a nosegay of pale pink asters.

Serving Mr. Bradley as best man was James M. McGaffin Jr., of Omaha, and seating the guests were Clarence Groth of Las Animas, Colo., and Lt. John W. Hickman of Omaha.

White imported organly embroidered in a daisy motif was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The portrait neckline of the molded bodice was filled in with a narrow yoke of illusion and framed by embroidered scallops of the organly, and the brief sleeves were softly shirred. Caught into fullness, the skirt flared into waltz length and was bordered with the scallop motif. A white flowered cap held her shoulder veil of illusion, and she carried a crescent of flesh pink Marguerite daisies.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha, the bride also attended the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. Mr. Bradley is a graduate of the University of Missouri and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi and Delta Upsilon fraternities.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Upon their return from a trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will reside in Omaha. For her traveling costume, Mrs. Bradley chose a two-piece ensemble of gray polished cotton with white pique trim and black patent accessories.

Had Church Service

MRS. RICHARD EARL MCCALL

For the marriage of Miss Lucille Eleanor Porter, daughter of Mrs. Fern J. Porter and Truman W. Porter, to Richard Earl McCall, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McCall, which took place Friday evening, July 1, the chapel of Trinity Methodist Church was lighted by white candles and appointed with tall arrangements of white and pink gladioli. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. S. B. Thomas, and Charles Tritt, organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Tritt also accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. L. C. Lucke, preceding the service.

Miss Dorothy Porter of Burbank, Calif., was her sister's

MISS JOANN EVELYN MEYER, whose marriage to Guy C. Dean Jr., will take place Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Church.

At a 10:30 o'clock morning ceremony on Saturday, Aug. 6, Miss JoAnn Evelyn Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Meyer, will become the bride of Guy C. Dean Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Dean. Lighted white candles and pedestal arrangements of white and pink gladioli will appoint the chancel of Sacred Heart Church for the service, which will be solemnized by the Rev. Edward Szczec, and the wedding music will be played by Marie Hassel, organist, who also will accompany Jack Alkier, the vocal soloist.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Richard G. Brown will wear a tulle-length frock of cloud blue tulle over satin. The fitted basque is covered with a snugly-buttoned jacket of lace, and the skirt is gathered into fullness. A cap of blue velvet and tulle trimmed with white daisies will complete her costume, and she will carry a bouquet of white and blue-tinted carnations. Wearing identical ensembles in petal pink will be the bridesmaids, Mrs. Pat Wade of Weeping Water and Miss-Mary Murphy. Miss Christy Sue Brown, niece of the bride, will be the flower girl.

Serving as best man will be Robert Ring, and the ushers will be Jack Meyer, Richard G. Brown and James Dean.

The bride's period gown is fashioned of white imported lace over satin. Natural scallops of the lace accent the low, rounded decolletage of the molded bodice, and the sleeves are long and fitted. The scallop motif is repeated at the hem of the four deep tiers of lace which form the wide skirt, and her full-length veil of illusion is held by a cap of tulle bordered with pearlized blossoms. She will carry an arrangement of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

A reception for 250 guests will be held in the parlors of the church. For their wedding trip to California, after which the couple will reside in Lincoln, Miss Meyer has chosen an ensemble of white linen trimmed with appliques of rhinestone-dotted daisies.

Brides

Honoring Miss Sandra Jane Beal, who will marry Harold Mortenson of Valparaiso on Sunday, Aug. 7, members of the Crouse Methodist Church WSCS entertained recently at an afternoon party. Miss Beal was presented a miscellaneous shower. Also included among recent courtesies for Miss Beal was the dessert luncheon for which Miss Melva Housel was a hostess at her home. Twenty guests were invited for an informal afternoon and presented a miscellaneous shower to the bride-to-be.

Honoring a popular August bride-elect, Miss Paula Karcher, Mrs. Arnold Horch, Mrs. Spencer Owens and Mrs. Bruce Owens will entertain a group of guests on Friday evening, Aug. 12, at the YWCA. The evening hours will be spent informally following a dessert supper.

The marriage of Miss Karcher and Jim Owens will take place on Sunday, Aug. 28.

Miss Karcher and her fiancé will be honored at a pre-nuptial dinner Sunday evening, Aug. 21, when Mr. Owens' mother, Mrs. R. B. Owens, will entertain at her

Clubs Name Delegates

Delegates to the annual state council meeting of Nebraska Home Extension Clubs were elected Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Lancaster County Extension Council.

Representing Lancaster County Extension Clubs at the annual meeting, which will be held Sept. 19 to 22, at Ogallala, will be Mrs. Arthur Fagan, Lincoln, council chairman; Mrs. Wayne Marolf, Waverly, council treasurer; Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Ceresco; Mrs. Gervase Francke, Walton; Mrs. Elmer Barnhill and Mrs. Jerry Eickmeier, both of Lincoln.

Mrs. Arthur Fagan presided at the meeting, which was attended by presidents of the more than 60 extension clubs in the county. Following committee reports, a talk on the recent atom bomb tests in Nevada was given by Mrs. John R. Scott, extension club civil defense chairman and state civil defense board member for women's activities of the Nebraska Civil Defense, who attended the tests as an official observer.

Selection of club programs and demonstrations for the coming year brought the meeting to a close.

Plan ESA Convention

Meeting in Lincoln last Sunday to discuss plans for the state convention of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority to be held at the Hotel Cornhusker Aug. 20 and 21, were officers and committee chairmen of the state council.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Delores Coons of Alma, state president; Miss Ione Rischling, Lincoln, convention chairman and parliamentarian for the international sorority; Miss Mary Stout, Lincoln, state historian; Miss Irene Uehling, Lincoln, awards chairman; Miss Jean Verjaska, Lincoln registration committee; and Miss Dee Finigan, Lincoln, publicity chairman.

home. The guest list will include only the members of the family and bridal party.

Miss Dorothy Simon, who will become the bride of William Renner on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, will be honored on Friday evening, Aug. 12, at a dessert supper and linen shower for which Mrs. D. S. Doty will be hostess at her home. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Doty's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Taylor of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Miss Simon and her fiancé will share honors on Saturday evening, Aug. 13, when the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Simon, will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner for the members of the bridal party and families at Cotner Terrace. Included among the out of town guests will be Miss Simon's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Leseberg of Beatrice, and Donald Chilcoat of Stanton.

Last Wednesday, the bride-to-be was the honored guest at a dinner when Miss Mary Towne entertained a group of guests at her home, and also included among recent courtesies for Miss Simon was the dessert and informal evening for which Mrs. Edward Carter and Mrs. Charlotte Scott were co-hostesses.

And completing plans for a wedding in September is Miss Marilyn Turner, whose marriage to Herbert Reed will take place on Saturday morning, Sept. 17.

Miss Turner has named her fiancé's sister, Mrs. Gene Hansen of Omaha, as her matron of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Rose Prochaska of Dwight, Mrs. Dennis Costin, and Miss Mary Essay. The flower girl will be Miss Cynthia Turner, niece of the bride-to-be.

Serving as best man will be Robert Turner, brother of Miss Turner, and the corps of ushers will include Gene Hansen of Omaha, Dwaine Felk and Carl Honens.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Helen Jennings of Los Angeles, formerly of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Jennings of Davenport, to Fred Williams of Alhambra, Calif., on Saturday, July 23. The ceremony took place at Las Vegas, Nev., and was solemnized in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

The bride wore for her wedding a dressmaker suit of silk wool in the cocoa brown shade. Her accessories were in matching tone, and her small cap was fashioned of russet sequins. She completed her ensemble with a shoulder corsage of green orchids.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and is employed as advertising manager of a Los Angeles store. The bridegroom is associated with the advertising department of the Los Angeles Mirror.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home at Alhambra.

Cubs Win 10-8 Hitfest From Bums; Homers Fly

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs Friday set back the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 10-8, with both teams blasting a total of 29 hits, including seven home runs. It was Chicago's fourth win over Brooklyn in 15 games.

Duke Snider of the Dodgers, got two home runs to lead the major league home run race with 38. Ernie Banks, the Cub shortstop who was tied with Snider before the game at 36 circuit blows each, got one.

Eddie Meksis, Dee Fondy of the Cubs, and the Dodgers' Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges also hit home runs.

Warren Hacker started for the Cubs and was relieved by Hal Jeffcoat, who got credit for the victory. Roger Craig was the loser.

Reese and Snider hit homers on consecutive pitches in the first inning, but Fondy beat out a drag bunt past the mound ahead of Banks' homer to tie the score.

The Dodgers picked up two more in the third inning. Don Hoak singled, took an extra base on Meksis' fumble and trotted home on Reese's sliced double to right. Snider walked and Campanella singled sharply to load the bases. Reese got home while a double play was in progress.

The Dodgers picked up two more in the third inning. Don Hoak singled, took an extra base on Meksis' fumble and trotted home on Reese's sliced double to right. Snider walked and Campanella singled sharply to load the bases. Reese got home while a double play was in progress.

He Floats Through The Air... Tony Baird, 19-year-old Everett, Wash., water skier, soars on a kite pulled by a speedboat (right). The daring stunt took young Baird more than 150 feet into the air during a water show. The boat was piloted by Tony's brother, Gordon. (AP Wirephoto.)

For instance, if the Braves hadn't included Billy Klaus as a throw-in in the Bobby Thomson-Johnny Antonelli deal he wouldn't eventually have wound up with the Red Sox, where he has a great deal to do with their current success.

And if the Braves hadn't made the Thomson-Antonelli deal, the Yankees wouldn't have won the pennant last year.

If the Yankees hadn't traded Vic Power to the Athletics, the New York club today would have one of the most sensational first basemen in the game.

If Detroit hadn't given up on Walt Dropo, the big guy wouldn't be hitting the long ball for the White Sox now and keeping them in contention, and if the A's hadn't swapped Nellie Fox to the White Sox a few years ago for Joe Tipton, the Chicago club wouldn't have its real spark plug at second base.

If the Yankees hadn't sent Jackie Jensen to Washington, from where he meandered to the Red Sox, he wouldn't be haunting them now by rattling baseballs against the fences.

If Detroit hadn't shipped Dick Donovan to Atlanta, from where he went to the White Sox, the Sox would be minus quite a few victories and the Tigers would have a top pitcher they need so badly.

If Detroit had visualized the potentialities of Billy Pierce back in '48, and hadn't given up on Virgil Trucks after his bad 1952 season, the two wouldn't be helping Donovan pitch the White Sox in the general direction of the pennant.

If Washington hadn't traded Early Wynn to Cleveland after his 8-19 season in 1948, he wouldn't have been one of the big guns in the Indians' pennant march last year, and a major factor in their campaign this year.

If Cleveland hadn't swapped Ray Boone to Detroit two years ago, the Tigers would be minus a .300 hitter and a bang-up third baseman.

It also was revealed that Joe Sadowski, sophomore guard from Wilkes Barre, Pa., has been lost to the squad because of scholastic reasons.

Art picks up about $8,000 for his beating and in a career spanning seven years he has brought in gates of nearly one million dollars. Just a few days ago he bought a new gold colored Cadillac.

During that month, the two pools spent $6,254.02 on operation. Munny Pool took in $1,672.44 while University Place Pool grossed $8,379.68 for July.

The receipts also do not reflect income from the concessions.

During its first month of operation, the Uni Pool had a daily attendance average of 1,000 persons. Only one day during the month, that when a storm forced the pool to close, did attendance drop below the 1,000 mark.

For a single day, July 29 was the biggest gate at Munny when admissions totaled $635.50. The biggest day at Uni Place was July 10 with $411.95 in admissions.

The City Council is considering an $80,000 appropriation for construction of another new swimming pool for next summer.

WAGERS OKAYED CHICAGO (AP)—Washington Park announced Friday it will permit parimutuel betting Aug. 31 on the special race between Swaps and Nashua.

The only wagers that will be handled, of course, will be bets to win.

The track, in announcing this arrangement Friday, said it had permitted parimutuel betting in the two previous match races at Washington Park—Unerring and Lying Lil in 1939, and Bushner and Duranza in 1945.
